“ A poem written by Dylan to his mother and best friend:

*There's nothing like a mother's love
It must be sent from above.
Unconditional Love, no matter what you do
Real love, strong and true.
A mother's love will never let you down
When you need her, she's around.*

*You've been great through all the years
Through all the joy and all the tears.
Even when it seems my life's a wreck,
It gets better just hugging your neck.
No words can express what you mean to me,
Hopefully one day I can make you see.*

*Times are hard and I can't be there
But you're in my heart and in my prayers.
Just know I Love You, never have a doubt,
No matter if I'm here or I'm out.
This is just a reminder from your son,
So you know, in my eyes your number one. Love you mom, Dill*

“ I remember quite well cutting his hair when he was a child. A wild child I might add. It was so hard for him to sit still. He always said something to make us laugh. And I have fond memories of those haircuts. And also haircuts as an adult. He truly had a beautiful smile and great hair. He also had a sweet soul. It was my privilege to know this young man for most of his life.

I know I haven't seen you much but when I did, Dylan was there and he was a good kid, he would laugh and show us the birds they had and we would have a nice visit. So sorry for his loss. Prayers and hugs to family.

Mary I am so sorry to hear about Dylan's passing. I remember the time when us girls were visiting you and the family and Dylan said he had a pet snake he wanted to show us and I told him no thank you and if you bring it out of your room then I will leave, so he didn't bring it out. Also that same day I was holding on my arm a beautiful bird and that bird shit on my arm so I told Mary why did he do that and Mary said because he likes u and I said just come and get bird off of me and they gave me a paper towel to clean my arm. It was Dylan that got the bird from me. I remember him and Mary being a animal lover of all kinds. Everytime we went to Mary's we all had fun with them all. But Dylan he loved his pets. Mary always remember that I'm here if you want to talk. Love hugs and prayers
