“ You will forever be my sister in my heart. Those years when we lived together are my best childhood memories. Even after our parents split, you still called me your Sis. I know that you've been in pain, emotionally and physically, for quite some time. I am happy that you may have some peace now. I just wish that you had that here on Earth. My heart goes out to your babies and all that love you. You are missed so much already. RIP Sis.
