“ Thank you to all who gave their support to help us celebrate Jon’s life. My name is Jennifer Solomon, Jon and I were cousin, a couple of months prier to his passing he asked me to write his eulogy and I immediately started crying and I said I can’t. He said no you have to! I hugged him so tight, I never wanted to let go. See Jon and I were so close, as close as cousins could get, we would fight like brothers and sister. When I was 10 us cousins would have sleepovers at grandma Solomon’s house. And while I taking a nap he stuck what must have been awhile big chew bubble gum stright to my head. He stuck every inch of my hair in it. That’s excatly like Jon and I relationship. But even thru out all that him and I been thru he always had my back, I always had his. Jon had many talents he was one of the e best sellsmen I’d ever known. He was well respected in the Peoria area. He loved to be outdoors he loved to fish, and most importantly he love his 2 little girls. He was such a great father. His eyes would light up the darkest of skies when we would talk about them. They were his whole world. Jon also loved music, some of his favorite as well as mine included Favio, lil Wayne and Kevin Gates. And I’m closing, I’ve been ten toes, didn’t fold they know I stand strong, but if you think about it, I’m riding like a benzo baby I’m too solid, why you double cross, girl your dead wrong I won’t talk about it symbolism in that red rose. Broken trust, I’ve been changed on I’ve been drug, through the rain I need love show me love show me love. I swear I’ve seen some things I was living a nightmare I ain’t believe in dreams. I swear by brother don’t fight fair. I’m usually left alone. I pray to the lord, I pray to my God protect all my enemies. My dude, goodbye I love you cuz
