“ I don't know who wrote this obituary, but Keith's dad is not dead. I am Keith's younger half-sister. Though things were complicated for sure, Keith's dad and his step-mom appreciated that he reached out to them several years ago. And even though I didn't really know him closely, and I wish things could have been different, I'm really sorry to hear this. May peace be with his brother C and sister A and the rest of the family.

“ Did you fake your death, your is name spelled wrong. Are you hanging out with Marlon,he's probably still alive too. As your skeptical buddy you know I would assume this. You were a good dude, and super smart, we had some good times, so I'm not accepting this obituary. You are out there somewhere! KBrooks still wants to borrow a couple of dollars for smokes and I haven't played command & conquer since the last time we were in your room. Where ever you are buddy, just wanted to let you know I'm glad you were my friend for awhile.
