“ Dear Vicki and John, I had the great honor of being friends with your mother. My mother, Grace Oyan and she were fast friends and shared countless escapades together. There was some story about a convertible and dinner along the Illinois River...what can I say?

Vicki, we had a conversation about convincing your mother that she could not risk driving without a license! You may remember that.

My husband Roger and I moved to Texas in December 2020 so I didn't see as much of Shirley as I would have liked this last year. But we did visit her in November on our visit home. I don't know if she knew me or not, but I'm glad we stopped in.

I have an image of Shirley and my mother in one of God's convertibles! It's hard to say good-bye, but I hope you take comfort in the promises of God's constancy in this life and the next.

Praying for your comfort and healing.
In Christ, Debbie Dornaus
